The Local Government Boundary Commission for England

Consultation for Wakefield extended until 9 September 2024

Have your say via our website

Dear Stakeholder,

We recently wrote to you regarding a public consultation on the electoral review of Wakefield Council

Due to the recent UK General Election call and the resulting need for Councils and others to focus on its successful delivery, we have taken the decision to extend the scheduled period of consultation.

The consultation will remain open throughout the election period and will close on Monday 9 September 2024.

The remaining stages of the review will subsequently be delayed as a result of this extension.

After the consultation closes on Monday 9 September, we will consider all of the responses we have received and draft a report, which will be published on our website.

You can read the report and learn more about next steps in the electoral review by visiting our website www.lgbce.org.uk or email us at reviews@lgbce.org.uk if you need more information.

Yours faithfully

Jonathan Ashby
